HIA Names New Hunter Regional President & Vice President

The Housing Industry Association, the voice of Australia's residential building industry, announced the election of Sean Yeomans and Grant Williamson as HIA Hunter Region President and Vice-President today following the HIA Hunter Annual Meeting of Members.

"HIA elections occur every two years and are an important means in which HIA members can volunteer to represent our broader membership on a range of important policy matters", said Craig Jennion, HIA Hunter Executive Director.

Sean Yeomans is the Director of Kitchens for Living, a local kitchen designer, manufacturer and joinery company, while Grant Williamson is the Managing Director of Winspace Constructions, a company that specialises in home extensions and renovations.

"Both Sean and Grant have sat on the HIA Hunter Regional Executive Committee for a number of terms and as dedicated members have volunteered their time to serve on both HIA national service committees and the Hunter Regional Executive", said Mr Jennion.

Sean and Grant will now lead a 12 member Regional Executive Committee that covers an area from the Mooney Mooney Bridge on the Central Coast to Forster and Tuncurry in the north and as far west as Scone and Merriwa.

"The role of the Hunter Executive Committee is to represent the local region, assist in the development of policies for implementation by HIA staff and provide a local forum to deal with regional issues", Mr Jennion said.

"I look forward to working with the new Hunter Regional Executive Committee to ensure that we retain a competitive residential housing industry, something which is critical to the economic wellbeing and growth of not only the Hunter but NSW more broadly", concluded Mr Jennion
