

MAKING SPACE ON SITE:

Victorian COVIDSafe Plan for small residential building sites

In line with Victorian public health directions all residential building work on new home building sites and home renovation sites must meet the following health and safety requirements to limit the risk of COVID-19.

ALL BUILDERS, TRADE CONTRACTORS, DELIVERY STAFF AND SPECIALIST PROFESSIONAL SERVICE PROVIDERS THAT ATTEND THIS BUILDING SITE MUST FOLLOW THE COVIDSAFE PLAN MEASURES SET OUT BELOW.

1

All workers entering this site must provide essential record keeping information by completing the TWO QR codes provided on this site:

- Service Victoria Check-in app for this site, and;
- HIA's COVID-19 Site Induction for Victorian small residential building sites, or an equivalent tool, to register attendance at the site and require confirmation that every person attending site is allowed to be on site:
 - you meet and can show evidence of meeting the mandatory COVID-19 vaccination requirements to attend a construction site (at least one dose);
 - you have not been in contact with anyone who has tested positive for COVID-19;
 - you are not a close or casual contact of a person with a positive COVID-19 test;
 - you feel well today and have no cold or flu symptoms or other symptoms of COVID-19; and
 - you have read and understand the COVIDSafe Plan for this site.

2

Prior to entering the site every person must declare they meet the mandatory vaccination requirement for construction workers and can provide evidence of this being either:

- have received two doses of a COVID-19 vaccination; or
- have medical grounds not to receive a COVID-19 vaccine and a medical certificate from an appropriate health practitioner stating that they have a condition that does not allow them to be vaccinated.

3

All workers must ensure COVID safety measures are met when on site:

- maintain 1.5 metre physical distance between other workers wherever practical;
- where specific work tasks require workers to be within close proximity:
 - the number of workers for the task will be kept to a minimum,
 - the time to complete the task will be kept to a minimum, and
 - masks will be worn unless other personal protective equipment is being worn or a valid exemption applies.
- practice good hand hygiene;
- report to the site supervisor any concerns in relation to the availability of personal hygiene or cleaning products and any shared facilities;
- report to the site supervisor if you test positive to COVID-19 after attending this building site.
